LETTER FROM THE CO-FOUNDEES

Thank you for visiting BungoBox.com and for taking the time to read through our e-book. Hopefully it helps you through your upcoming move. We all know that moving really does, well... suck! But with BungoBox we decided we want to not only make it less sucky, but that we want to make it fun too.

You will find that a BungoBox move will be easier, more cost-effective and eco-friendlier than previous moves. We strive to be the most positive experience in any move and maybe cause a few smiles.

If we can help you with anything, even if you don’t rent our boxes, please just give us a call. In the meantime, have fun BungoBoxing!

ABOUT THE MOVING HANDBOOK

Don’t be a Dumpster-Diver. Get BungoBox!

BungoBox is committed to providing you all the resources you need to make your move as easy as possible. So, we have created the Making Moving Simple handbook in line with that effort to keep our customers informed and knowledgeable.

Using our own experience, the advice of experts in the moving industry, and real-life data, this handbook has been carefully compiled to ensure you have everything you need for a successful move. However, for the most up-to-date information or for assistance with your move, contact one of our representatives at 888-479-1888.
CHECKLISTS FOR MOVING

It is said that a short pencil is better than a long memory, and with moving, it couldn’t be truer. Remembering every last detail of a move can be overwhelming, and a burden that we at BungoBox have found to be best relieved through checklists.

That’s why we have provided a universal checklist, a be-all and end-all guide to your moving adventure. Print it out and stick it on the fridge, frame it, engrave it into a stone tablet, do whatever you need to do to make use of BungoBox’s guide to an effortless move.
PLANNING YOUR MOVE

Plan Ahead. You won’t have to suck up to your truck-owning friends.

- Set a date for the move: Monday-Thursday is best because offices are still open if problems arise
- File change of address and notify all service providers of the change
- Research moving companies and pick someone reliable
- Recruit friends/family for help with your move (time to hunt down that one friend with a truck)
- Cancel Newspapers
- Service Automobile
- Return/retrieve items from friends/neighbors
- Create a budget for the move: how much are you willing to spend to save time?
- Check with the IRS for possible tax deductions—including moving expenses
- Contact the Chamber of Commerce at your new home to request their new resident packet
- Compile medical records and ask current physicians for a referral
- Transfer school records
- Transfer vet records
- Subscribe to the newspaper in your new hometown to start learning about events and the local culture
- Fill any prescriptions a few weeks in advance
- Call insurance agents to see if policy will change
- End any paid-memberships (gyms, country clubs, etc.)
- Open bank accounts near new home
- Get rid of anything you can (a secret to moving is to eliminate as many items from the move as possible)
- Create a moving organizer:
  - Purchase a 1/2inch 3 ring binder
  - Pocket dividers to separate section and hold important receipts
  - Loose leaf paper for keeping notes
- Pick-up essential moving supplies
  - Markers to label boxes
  - Moving Boxes
  - Cushioning materials for breakables (tip: use t-shirts or towels to save money and space)
- Utility transfer set-up: notify all companies you use for electric, cable, phone etc. of your move date
  - Cable/Satellite TV
  - Electricity
  - Internet/ Broadband
  - Long Distance Phone Service
  - Recycling Pick-Up
  - Security System
  - Water
  - Cell Phone Service
  - Local Phone Service
  - Gas
  - Propane
  - Sewer
  - Trash Pick-Up

PACKING FOR YOUR MOVE

Get rid of everything you don’t need. When it comes to packing, less is more.

☐ Pack an “open me first” box with essential items for your first day/night at your new home

☐ Make arrangements for small children/pets during move day

☐ Make sure electronics (especially cellphones) are fully charged for moving day

☐ Make an inventory of every room noting the valuable items

☐ Empty, defrost and clean fridge at least 24 hours before moving day

☐ Pack a suitcase for the first night in your new home

☐ Dismantle beds and large furniture at least 24 hours in advance

☐ Make sure to eat a big breakfast and get a lot of sleep the night before

☐ Drain water hoses

☐ Verify time/date/place with moving company

☐ Plan meals for the last week and pack all non-perishable food that will not be used

☐ Eat/use perishable items

☐ Have every family member do a “once-over” to make sure everything is out of the house

☐ Pack rooms that do not have essential items for living first

☐ Have a garage sale to get rid of big items/things you no longer use (as an alternative: call Goodwill/Salvation army and donate unneeded items)

☐ Make a note of all utility meter readings

☐ Dismantle beds and large furniture at least 24 hours in advance

☐ Drain water hoses

☐ Make sure to eat a big breakfast and get a lot of sleep the night before

☐ Stop, breathe, continue

☐ Have a garage sale to get rid of big items/things you no longer use (as an alternative: call Goodwill/Salvation army and donate unneeded items)

☐ Dismantle beds and large furniture at least 24 hours in advance

☐ Drain water hoses

☐ Make sure to eat a big breakfast and get a lot of sleep the night before

DURING YOUR MOVE

Sit back and relax. You’re paying people to do this for a reason!

☐ Make arrangements for small children/pets during move day

☐ Make sure you have cash on hand to pay movers

☐ Leave a note with your new address in your old house

☐ so that future residents can forward any stray mail

☐ Make a note of all utility meter readings

☐ Start early

☐ Clear out all garbage before you start moving

☐ Have every family member do a “once-over” to make sure everything is out of the house

☐ Make sure to eat a big breakfast and get a lot of sleep the night before

☐ Make sure to eat a big breakfast and get a lot of sleep the night before

☐ Stop, breathe, continue

☐ Give movers your cell phone number and ask for theirs to keep in contact during transit

☐ Verify mailing address is correct

☐ Supervise loading/unloading of boxes and direct movers as to where to leave furniture/boxes
AFTER YOUR MOVE

Good news is you’ve finished the hard part! Bad news is you’re not quite done.

- Pick up anything at the post office that is behind held
- Keep all receipts/documents in a moving file
- Get new drivers license/tags (if needed)
- Test all appliances in new house
- Install batteries in carbon monoxide/smoke detectors
- Re-key locks (if you feel it to be necessary)
- Register to vote
- Contact new affiliations (churches, clubs, etc.)
- Meet the neighbors!

TIPS & TRICKS FOR MOVING

The key to moving is preparation and organization. Label, label, label. You’d be shocked at the amount of time you can save by knowing what’s inside a box without having to sift through it.

Moving is the ultimate time to clean house. Whether it is just ridding yourself of clutter or revamping your entire interior décor, a new house gives you a clean slate.

Most importantly, don’t forget the kids, and use BungoBox!
CHOOSING A DESTINATION

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, 31 percent of people are most likely to choose their new neighborhood based on convenience to their job. However, that leaves 69 percent of us moving based on other variables. These may include starting a new family, needing a new start, craving different weather or a change in a family situation. So, when picking your future home, what are you supposed to be looking for?

BungoBox has provided and outlined some important factors to pay attention to in your search:

- WHY ARE YOU MOVING?
  (discover what’s important to you)

- WHO ARE YOU?
  (family with children, single, retired...)

- HAVE YOU CHECKED THE CRIME RATE?
  (a little homework will save you worry)

- WHAT CAN YOU SPEND?
  (property value, cost of living, moving expenses)
WHY ARE YOU MOVING?

Sit down and clearly write out the reasons for your move. This will help you to discover what is important to you in choosing a new home. If you find that your list mostly revolves around the actual geographic properties of your current home then you’ll know to pay attention to the weather and terrain of your possible future destinations. But, if most of your reasons include a sense of community or making good friends, you’ll know to focus more on the people of your new potential city.

WHO ARE YOU?

There are many cities perfect for a newly-wed couple to settle down and start a family in, but those same cities may not be so excellent for an elderly couple looking to find a retirement destination. Because your happiness with your new home is so contingent on whom you are, we’ve broken down some of the most important things to look for based on your demographic.
A FAMILY WITH CHILDREN

Usually focused on a location that is safe, affordable, offers great educational institutions, and has a high sense of community. Their main concerns are:

SCHOOLS:
One of your main concerns is going to be with the grading of the schools. You can visit http://www.greatschools.org/ to find top schools in the nation, grades for schools in the area you may be thinking of moving to and even houses for sale by high rated schools.

COMMUNITY YOUTH CENTERS AND PARKS:
As your children grow, you want to make sure there are a lot of positive organizations around for them to get involved with. You can easily find out how close the nearest YMCA is or if your new city has a Boys and Girls Club by doing a quick location search. Look to see if there is a city or state park close, as this can be a very valuable asset when you are raising active children.

NEIGHBORHOOD WATCH:
Over the years, different safety measures in neighborhoods have been greatly debated. Is it safer to live in neighborhood with a gate? Should you live close to a school? Is it dangerous to live “too far” from your neighbors? But, the one safety precaution consistently praised is the installment of a Neighborhood Watch Program. This concept has been proven time and time again to be one of the most effective ways to reduce crime. Working with your neighbors to recognize suspicious activity and keep your community safe can also create a sense of unity.

THE FAMILY STATS

According to Forbes, the top 10 places to raise a family are:

1. Des Moines- West Des Moines, Iowa
2. Harrisburg- Carlisle, Pennsylvania
3. Rochester, New York
4. Syracuse, New York
5. Provo- Orem, Utah
6. Ogden- Clearfield, Utah
7. Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania
8. Knoxville, Tennessee
9. Albany- Schenectady- Troy, N.Y.
10. Buffalo-Niagara Falls, N.Y.
SINGLES

Usually focused on a location that has a young demographic, a high median income, and an exciting night life. Their main concerns are:

JOB OPPORTUNITIES:
Individuals who are single do not have to worry about nearly as many things when choosing a place to live. But this “freedom” can also be very stressful because there are so many options. One way to easily narrow the list down is to look at the job opportunities available in your prospective cities. Luckily, we live in the age of the internet, so now job searching is as easy as typing in a location radius on a job search engine. Checking out available jobs before you decide on a new place to live will make your move much smoother.

NIGHT LIFE:
Singles tend to be more thrill-seeking than family oriented individuals. So you want to make sure that you pick somewhere that has an exciting night life (you don’t want to move just to find out that everything closes at 9:00 every night). “Night life” is usually rated by the number of restaurants, bars and nightclubs per capita. Living close to the “downtown” area of your new city can almost always guarantee a better night life.
THE SINGLES STATS

According to CNN, Top 10 Places for the Rich and Single are:

1. Newport Beach, California
2. Newton, Massachusetts
3. Brookline, Massachusetts
4. Sandy Springs, Georgia
5. Irvine, California
6. Milpitas, California
7. Sunnyvale, California
8. Mountain View, California
9. Chapel Hill, North Carolina
10. Santa Clara, California

CULTURE:

The average marriage age in the United States is believed to be around 26 for women and 27 for men. That means that most adults only live alone as singles for about 5 years. In order to get the richest experience out of those 5 years, make sure to live somewhere with a noticeably strong culture. Research the number of live theaters, concert venues, sports teams and museums in the area. If your new home is located near a university, the area is likely to be filled with the culture from the arts, music and enrichment of that university.
RETired

Usually focused on a location that is quiet and peaceful, with nice scenery, and a low crime rate. Their main concerns are:

WEATHER:
Individuals getting ready to retire, especially those who have lived in cold places their whole lives, are usually ready to put their snow shovels away for good. Weather is one of the top reasons that the elderly are likely to choose one destination over the other. By doing a little bit of research, you can easily find out the trending weather data on any location for the past few years. It is almost always safest to pick somewhere located near water.

TRAFFIC:
We often think of retirement as the serene, peaceful time of life. Therefore, on your search for a new home, try to avoid cities that have become overcrowded. Because you have the leisure of not needing to be located close to a metropolis for work, you can pick somewhere with more isolation or just with less people in general. No one wants to be stuck in rush hour on a casual trip to the grocery store.
CAMARADERIE:
It is important to find fellowship with other retirees in your new destination. Find out what types of activities are offered around your prospective destinations based on your interests. Perhaps, you want to pick somewhere that offers a wide selection of crafting, painting or other art related classes and clubs. Maybe, you have always been into ball room dancing; look to see if they are any open studios in the area.

THE RETIRED STATS

According to CNBC, the Top 10 Best Places to Retire:

1. Loveland/Fort Collins, Colorado
2. Las Cruces, New Mexico
3. Rehoboth Beach, Delaware
4. Portland, Oregon
5. Greenville, South Carolina
6. Sarasota, Florida
7. Ann Arbor, Michigan
8. Tucson, Arizona
9. Montpelier, Vermont
10. Honolulu, Hawaii
CHECK OUT THE CRIME RATE

Since the mid-1990s, crime rates have decreased nationally, but there are still specific locations that have a high number of dangerous criminal activity reports or an unusual amount of violence. By doing your homework, you can avoid high-risk areas and decrease the likeliness of crime in your neighborhood. Check out the crime rates in any neighborhood by visiting the following sites:

- http://www.fbi.gov/ucr/ucr.htm
- http://www.bestplaces.net/crime/
WHAT CAN YOU SPEND?

By now, you should have a lengthy list of optimal destinations for your move, so it’s time to throw in a dose of reality. Unfortunately, we must always consider the financial aspects of a move. The mistake that many people make is narrowing down their options based on their budget before anything else. This may cause you to overlook many of the more important variables in your move. So, although it is important to consider a few financial properties in order to limit your list, make sure you look into everything previously discussed above first!

PROPERTY VALUE:

Assuming that you are buying a new home when you move, you want to try and find property that will hopefully grow in property value. Although it is impossible to guarantee that a home will grow in value, there are things you can look for in order to maximize your potential gain. Property value is largely based on the number of potential future homebuyers. Therefore, you want to live somewhere that appeals to the largest number of potential homebuyers. Make sure that you are not just looking for an attractive city but also focus on the appeal of the communities within that city. Find a few addresses close to your potential community and search the values of those homes. High property values also indicate that the area is doing well.

COST OF LIVING:
If you are used to paying $5.00 for a cheeseburger and when you arrive at your new home you cannot find a cheeseburger for less than $12.00, you may begin to find your pay check starting to disappear quicker. To avoid this, thoroughly research the average cost of living for each of the cities you are considering. There is a cost of living calculator online that will compare your current city with any other city to give perspective on how much more expensive (or cheaper) your new city might be.

MOVING EXPENSES:
A final financial consideration is the cost of your move. Although, much of this will depend on your choice of moving company and your method of travel, your costs will generally be higher the farther away you move. Use a spreadsheet to calculate the costs of moving based on how far away your new home is from where you currently reside. Do not forget to factor in expenses such as gas, truck rental and plane tickets.
CHOOSING A MOVER

You have your new place, you’ve made your Moving Plan, you’ve taken care to protect and organize all of your valuables (even that knick-knack collection that you swore you were going to part ways with), and now comes the decision that will test out your packing skills – choosing a mover.

The last thing you want to have to worry about when moving is losing or breaking some of your valuables. Its part of the moving nightmare when you go to unpack that vase that is going to fit so perfectly in your new dining room – only to discover that it has been cracked or broken. Even the best packing job can’t protect against the impromptu careless game of catch!

Now, if it’s your friends or family tossing the boxes, we can’t really help – but we can offer advice on how to make sure your hired movers aren’t likely to do so! Follow these steps to confirm that the movers you are hiring are going to get your belongings to your new place in one piece:
BungoBox has provided and outlined some important factors to pay attention to in your search:

- CHECK THEIR I.D.
  Choose only movers that are licensed, bonded and insured. If you aren’t sure if a moving company fits these criteria – just ask!

- USE THE GRAPEVINE
  Ask friends, family, real estate agents or just ask us. BungoBox will be happy to provide a list of quality movers in your area.

- DO YOUR HOMEWORK
  Check out the Department of Transportation or Moving.org – the website for the American Moving and Storage Association. Another place to look would be the Better Business Bureau and other online review sites.

- GET IT IN WRITING
  Be cautious of very low bids – sometimes if something sounds too good to be true, it’s because it is! Be sure to get a “Binding Not to Exceed” estimate in writing.

- TRUST YOUR GUT
  If you’re uncomfortable with a mover, there’s usually a valid reason for it. Just move on to the next mover or do it yourself. You’ll save yourself a lot of headaches.
PACKING EFFICIENTLY

We will just assume that you’ve already taken the first step to ensure that your move will be your easiest yet by choosing BungoBox (and that your mind is now at ease because you will not be chopping down a forest to move your belongings). But finding the right boxes is only the beginning.

Here are a seven tips that will make loading your BungoBoxes even easier!

1 LIGHTEN YOUR LOAD
Use moving as a time to purge. Do not pack things you do not use or that are no longer needed in your life. Have a moving sale about a month before you move, then you can use that money to help pay for your move. For everything you don’t sell, donate those items to charity and get the tax write offs.

2 PLAN YOUR STAYCATION
Pack up your family as if you’re going on vacation for a few days. This will make your life a lot easier the first few days in the new home.
3 ROLL & PACK
Using BungoWheels, roll a stack of 4 empty BungoBoxes into the room you are packing. Remove all the BungoBoxes from the Bungo-Wheels except one; now begin to pack that box. Once it is full, close the lids and place an empty box on top and repeat. Once you have packed and stacked 4 or 5 boxes, roll them to your staging area and organize by how you want the truck to be loaded.

4 DON’T FORGET YOUR LABELS
Use the labels provided to keep track of what is in each box. Place the labels on the ends of the boxes so that you can see what is in each box when it is stacked. Use the BungoBox tracking sheet to keep tabs on all your boxes and the contents.

5 LAST = FIRST
Place one or two boxes in each room and label those boxes. Place items in these boxes that you will need right up until moving day. Then you know when you get the new place these boxes will be opened first so that you can get to your most important items right away.
6 REPURPOSE FOR PACKING PAPER
Save on packing materials by using towels, socks and T-Shirts as filler on your most fragile items (just make sure you save a few towels and sheets to use for your first few days in the new place). If you need some help here, be sure to order recycled and recyclable BungoWrap with your boxes.

7 DON’T BREAK YOUR BACK
BungoBoxes are strong and will hold as much as you can put in them. It is true that you don’t have to lift them very often, but you may occasionally; therefore try to keep the weight of each box below 50 pounds.
SAVING MONEY

As stated before, there are some fixed costs that you cannot avoid while moving but if there’s one thing we have mastered at BungoBox, it’s how to save you money. Just by choosing BungoBox, you are already saving up to 70% less than what you would have paid for cardboard boxes.

WHEN IT COMES TO PRICE:

BungoBox™: 1  Cardboard: 0

Here are four great ways to keep yourself from breaking the bank during your move:

1. AVOID SUMMERS & WEEKENDS

Just by moving during “off-season”, October-April, you will spend significantly less. Usually, moving companies offer their best promotions during these months in order to drive business. You are also much more likely to successfully bargain with your moving company during their slower months. Moving during the week will cost less for the same reasons on a smaller scale.

2. KNOW ABOUT “TARIFF 400”

Tariff 400 is an annually revised book published by the American Moving and Storage Association each year. In this publication, moving companies are advised how much they should charge for hauling X pounds for X miles. Usually, to stay competitive, moving companies will discount this rate by up to 60%. If you know what the rate is for the year, you can ask the company’s sales rep how much they discounted their rate for the year. This will also give you a ball park price for how much you should expect to pay.
3 TAX DEDUCTIONS

Keep all of your receipts from the move because you’ll be able to deduct allowable expenses from your income taxes.

4 DO YOUR OWN PACKING

BungoBox makes it easy to do your own packing with our large, durable boxes and easy to move dollies. In a sample moving estimate compiled by the AMSA, packing and unpacking accounted for about 20% of the moving costs!
CLIENT SHOWCASE

BungoBox has been helping our customers take the complication and stress out of moving for over a year now. We are proud to work with our customers to ensure that “move” is no longer considered a four letter word. Here is a sampling of testimonials, ranging from large scale commercial relocations to individual moves, to give you an idea of what BungoBox can do for you.
COMMERCIAL CLIENT #1

Name: Vision 360
Sector: Non-Profit Organization
Date of Move: August, 2010
Size: One office building moved
20 people involved
Order: 1 Week Rental
80 L Boxes- $140.00
6 Dollies- $30.00
Estimated Price: $170.00

“Because we used BungoBoxes, people were able to come in and pack anytime during the week. The boxes were consistent in size so they were very easy to stack and move. The durability of the boxes allowed us to use volunteers to help with the move since we didn’t have to worry about anything breaking”

Time/Money Saved: Vision 360 saved an estimated $2000 between costs of labor/time and actual costs of supplies. They saved at least 3 days of time because of the durability and convenience of the boxes.

“We chose BungoBox over the competitors because we calculated an average savings of $3.00 a box. BungoBox was also the most convenient option since they drop off and pick up the boxes”
COMMERCIAL CLIENT #2

Name : Merrill Insurance Group
Sector : Insurance Agency
Date of Move : May, 2010
Size : One office building moved
       12-14 offices
       2 people involved
Order : 1 Week Rental
       40 L Boxes- $70.00
       10 Dollies- $50.00
Estimated Price : $120.00

“The best thing about using BungoBox was how convenient BungoBox made moving. We really liked the carts with wheels because it made moving multiple boxes at once very simple. We also liked that you could stack the boxes on top of one another and not have to worry about them all crushing since BungoBoxes are durable”

“We chose BungoBox over other companies because it is a great product, much better and more reliable than cardboard boxes especially when stacking multiple boxes on one another”

Time Saved: “BungoBox saved us at least a day’s worth of packing and moving because it was so much easier to pack these boxes compared to cardboard ones. We are glad we chose BungoBox for our move!”
RESIDENTIAL CLIENT #1

Name: Gabriela Aparicio
Occupation: Massage Therapist
Date of Move: September, 2010
Size: One bedroom, bathroom, kitchen, & living room
Order: 1 Week Rental
   2 Bungo Wardrobe - $10.00
   20 L Bungo Boxes - $35.00
   3 XL Bungo Boxes - $6.75
   2 Dollies - $10.00

Estimated Price: $61.75

“BungoBox saved me the most money when I took packing supplies into consideration. Because I was using plastic boxes, I did not have to buy any packing tape and I knew that the boxes were durable enough that I could just wrap my things in towels or t-shirts.”

Time saved: At least 2-3 days. The BungoWardrobe allowed her to just move her closet in one easy step, allowing her to save a ton of time. She was able to use fewer boxes and didn’t have to make as many trips. Also, the one week rental period gave her the motivation she needed to pack and unpack efficiently.

“It was really easy. They provided stickers for me to label the boxes and since they were stackable, I could just slap a sticker on the box, stack it on the dolly and roll it out the car. And at the end of the move, there was no garbage to worry about!”
RESIDENTIAL CLIENT #2

Name : Julie Norris
Occupation : Restaurant Owner
Date of Move : November, 2010
Size : 2 bedrooms, 1 bathroom, 1 kitchen, & 1 living room
Order : 1 Week Rental
2 bedroom pkg : $67.75

“BungoBox was just so clean. When you use cardboard boxes, your hands get yucky. But with BungoBoxes everything felt clean and it was very aesthetically pleasing. Also, it took away the stress of thinking and it was so efficient”

Time Saved: “It’s hard to put a quantitative number on the amount of time that was saved. We saved time during every step of the move. It was hours and hours saved.”
This economy sucks. Luckily, BungoBox is here to help. We have decided saving you money is no longer enough, we’d like to help MAKE you money. Don’t worry; we’re not going to try to convince you to sell our boxes door-to-door (that might get a little heavy). Instead, we would like to extend an invitation to start your own BungoBox Branch!

TOP 5 REASONS

1 RECESSION RESISTANT

In this economy there are a lot of things taking a hit – gas prices, cars, even your favorite corner coffee shop — but there is one thing that isn’t, and that’s BungoBox. We provide not just great service and an eco-friendly alternative to cardboard but we offer a necessary product to our market that is cheap. Because money is tight, people are searching for extra ways to save. BungoBox saves the average customer 50% of what they’d normally spend. Take that recession!
2 LOW INVESTMENT

We want you to make money as soon as possible. Personally, we live by getting the “most bang for your buck”, which holds true for our company. With a BungoBox franchise you can put in a low initial investment and make more than your neighbor whose “investment” idea involves becoming the next Jenga champion. Starting your own company can be extremely expensive long before you produce your first sale! The benefit of franchising with BungoBox is that we’ve already taken care of a lot of the upfront costs for you. We created BungoBox with franchising in mind and we have invested the money necessary to develop a strong brand that people will remember.

3 TRAINING & SUPPORT

Just like we would never expect our Bungo-Boxes to pack themselves (though we are working on that technology), we would never leave you alone with no help or support. We can offer you all the training, proprietary technology and systems, everything that you need to get a leg-up on your successful BungoBox business, though, we do not condone standing on our otherwise-sturdy boxes (per our legal team’s suggestions).
4 OUR CLIENTS NEED US

Luckily, people will always continue to move and fortunately for us, they need something to pack all of their things in. Thus, BungoBox is a necessity to the right market. We target people looking for convenience, savings of up to 50% on their moving costs, and exceptional service. Whether clients are using a full-service mover for their home or business or simply do not want dumpster dive for boxes, BungoBox is the perfect solution for all.

5 WE SHARE!

BungoBox has accumulated the resources needed to find clients, manage businesses and maintain a strong online brand. When you join our team you will be given access to all of these, including a fully functional call center, online order system, social media team, and public relations experts.

Think you have what it takes? Chris Conner, our franchising director, says that successful franchisees are usually “motivated, self-driven and organized”. If this sounds like you or if you’d like more information, do not hesitate to contact us today!
OVERVIEW OF BUNGOBOX & SERVICES

“The beauty of it is that it’s a simple concept”
- Bob Cannon, Co-Founder

Tom and Bob Cannon started BungoBox from an extreme aversion to the process of moving. All that sorting, cleaning, packing is no fun at all. Okay, it sucks. And the whole nuisance of finding cardboard boxes and packing materials (tape, string, markers, etc.) makes it even worse - not to mention how wasteful of time, money, and trees it is. So they set out to change all that and make moving a lot more enjoyable. We’d be lying if we said fun, but it’s certainly more cost effective, efficient, reliable, and a heck of a lot easier.

How so? BungoBox will deliver sturdy and secure, reusable plastic containers right to your door when you need them. You just fill them up with your stuff and move. Once you’ve unpacked and settled in, simply call BungoBox and we will promptly pickup of all your rented materials.

We hope that our guide will be helpful in your upcoming move, and thank you for considering BungoBox!
L BungoBoxes
- Made of durable, recyclable plastic, BungoBoxes stand up to stacking and rainy days much better than typical cardboard moving boxes. \(27 \times 17 \times 12 = 2.5 \text{ Cubic Feet}\)
- $1.75 per week/box

XL BungoBoxes
- Same great design, even more space! Our extra large BungoBoxes holds roughly a cubic foot more than the large. \(28 \times 20 \times 15 = 3.8 \text{ Cubic Feet}\)
- $2.25 per week/box

BungoWheels
- Stack your boxes and move them with ease on BungoWheels. They function like a dolly and are custom sized to fit the BungoBoxes.
- $5.00 per week/dolly

BungoWrap
- A friend to your fragile items, BungoWrap is 100% recycled and biodegradable. Purchase some so you can pack and wrap guilt-free!
- $18 per 10 pounds (approx. 175 sheets)

BungoZips
- Secure packs with BungoZips to keep your stuff in and curious bystanders out. These zip ties are stronger and less expensive than packing tape. Purchase them in packs of 50.
- $3.00 per 50 zips

BungoWardrobes
- BungoWardrobes keep your duds safe, organized and wrinkle free! Leave your clothes on hangers and just transfer everything over to your BungoWardrobe and then right into your new closet.
- $5.00 per week
